

Math 125, Spring 2015, Lowman

The overall grading scale and points assigned are the same for this lecture section of Math 125 as for all other lecture sections. However, there are some adjustments on how the quiz and homework grades are calculated.

GRADING

The course grade will be determined by Midterms, Quizzes, Homework Assignments, and the Final Exam.

- Two Hour Exams 100 points each
- Quizzes (see details below) 120 points total
- Homework (see details below) 80 points total
- Final Exam 200 points
- Total 600 points

Grading Scale

- 90%(540 pts) for an A,
- 80%(480 pts) for a B,
- 70%(420 pts) for a C,
- 60%(360 pts) for a D are guaranteed levels for each letter grade.
- These are guaranteed levels for each letter grade.

Quizzes

- Quizzes will be given every Thursday in discussion except in the week of a midterm exam, in this case the quiz will be given on Tuesday. Some of these quizzes may be given as takehome quizzes.

- Quizzes will be graded on a scale of 10 points. Eight of these points will be based on your your actual quiz and two points points will be assigned by your TA each week based on Tuesday and Thursday attendance, class participation and any small assignments they may give.
- The three lowest quiz scores will be dropped. Due to this there are NO MAKE-UPS on quizzes. Missed quizzes count as Zero and will be dropped if no more than three.

Homework

- Homework 80 points total.
  - 40 points - online MyMathLab homework.
  - 40 points - random lecture attendance quizzes, take home quizzes assigned and collected in lectures, special written homeworks/projects assigned and collected in lectures.
  - The random lecture quizzes will count as 0, 1, 2 or 3 points.
    - * 0: no show, leave early, come late,
    - * 1: attend and participate in class but nothing for quiz work. Using electronic devices and talking during the the lecture in most cases is the same as not participating in the class.
    - * 2: quiz work almost ok,
    - * 3: quiz work good.
  - Special written homeworks/projects assigned and collected in lectures will count more.
