Finding Pioneering Women in American Mathematics: The Why, the How, and the What.

Jeanne LaDuke (DePaul University)

Abstract: Join the UIC chapter of the Association for Women in Mathematics to learn about the history of women in math with Jeanne LaDuke. Jeanne LaDuke is a historian of mathematics and professor emeritus at Depaul University. She along with Judy Green are authors of the book "Pioneering Women in American Mathematics: The Pre-1940 Ph.D.'s". The event will feature a lecture from Professor LaDuke followed by a question and answer session, followed by tea at 4:15 in SEO 300.
