Applications of constructible sheaves

Jānis Lazovskis (UIC)

Abstract: All we do is for this frightened thing we call Love, want and lack — fear that we aren't the one whose body could be beloved of all the brides of Kansas City, kissed all over by every boy of Wichita — O but how many in their solitude weep aloud like me — On the bridge over Republican River almost in tears to know how to speak the right language — on the frosty broad road uphill between highway embankments I search for the language that is also yours.
