

Undergraduate Mathematics Symposium

Saturday, October 15, 2016
University of Illinois at Chicago

Featuring plenary lectures by

Sarah Koch (Michigan)

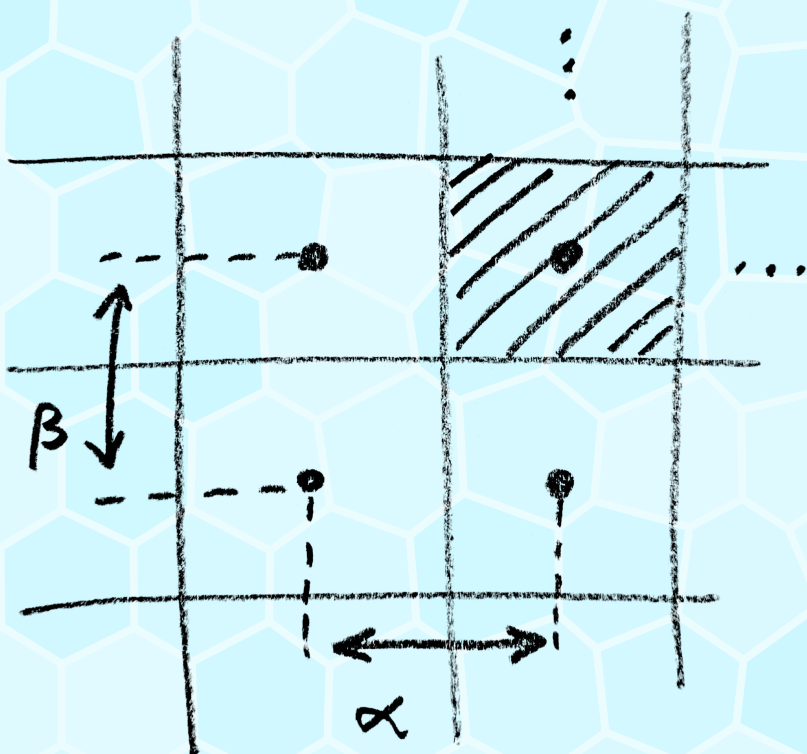

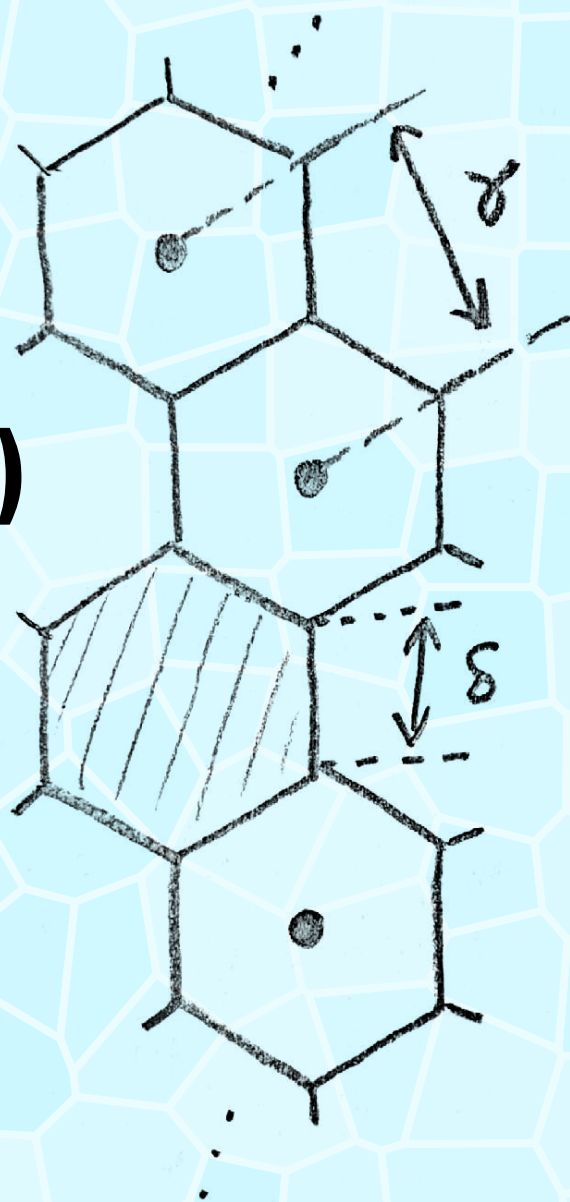

Andrew Putman (Notre Dame)

Richard Schwartz (Brown)

Call for student presenters

Apply online to give a lecture or to present a poster about an undergraduate research project, REU, or independent study.

Apply by September 9 for full consideration.

Everyone is welcome

Online registration to attend the symposium is simple and free.

Organized by David Dumas & Kevin Tucker

The symposium is supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

